“Roseburg, Are We Crazy About Our Kids?”

If you could make an investment now that would pay-off seven-fold in the future and improve the quality of life for everyone in your community, would you do it?

From the PBS documentary The Raising of America, we will view “Are We Crazy About Our Kids?” and learn about a community-wide effort called the Early Teaching Project, to train parents and other caregivers in a simple technique that will boost a child’s chance to be successful in school.
